IN MEMORIAM

In memory of Robert Manwaring, member of the senior class of Baraboo High School, born Mar. 17, 1926, died Oct. 23, 1943.

He came from Reedsburg to Baraboo during the summer of 1943, where he since made many devoted friends and proved to be a worthy addition to our school.

Bob, who was ambitious, energetic, and profoundly sincere, was held in high esteem by the faculty and student body of the school.

His passing is a loss to the community as well as a great loss to the Class of 1944.

BARABOO HIGH SCHOOL

As we seniors review our high school years, all those incidents of learning and living which may have appeared minor in their time gain new significance when considered in the parade of events which has culminated now in our graduation. In choosing the theme "The Passing Parade" we have tried to bring out this idea. From John Nesbit of the M.G.M. Studios we secured not only permission to use the title but his good wishes for our publication. We have attempted to organize this yearbook from the student's point of interest by re-arranging sections from their traditional positions in annuals.

Mr. Trimpey and Mr. Zarling, photographers, have cooperated in taking the groups and individual pictures. To Mr. C. D. Stewart and Mr. P. D. Pearsall, our engraver and printer, we express our appreciation for their help and suggestions in layouts, and to Miss Hammersley, our appreciation for her time and effort to make this annual possible.

The staff sincerely hopes the students, especially the Seniors, will approve of the new organization of the book and enjoy the 1944 Minnewaukan from the title page to the last panel of snaps.

BLANCHE WICKUS, Editor.

The Year

SEPTEMBER

- 7 Hello again! Here we are back in the groove at B. H. S. Joe Mott prods Miss Crandall for Ag-Thalia Play tryouts.
- 17 Club Barateen opens today; the jumping jives are at it again.
- 20 Pete Hewitt claims end seat on bench so he won't get a mud pack from the passers-by.
- 25 We got off to a good start as we clipped Edgewood in a fast and furious battle at Madison. Vic Hein declares himself a conscientious objector to a five day week.
- 29 In our first activity program Mr. Stekel showed us how much "Yankee Doodle" really got around.

OCTOBER

- 5 Grant Buelow is still trying to figure out how Chuck Sarahan waves his hair.
- 15 It's blue around here today, but our loss is the Navy's gain — "Ensign Arley" left today for duty in the Navy.
- 19 It is really amazing what those Thalia girls think up for their initiations. What comes every six weeks that makes smiles droop, hands shake, and knees knock? ? ? ? Not report cards, by any chance!
- 20 The F. F. A. boys are seriously considering Joyce Herfort for their initiation queen. Is that why you're sporting those new jeans, Herf?
- 21 A Cappella picnic at Devils Lake—Miss Haslanger is voted All-American blocking center.

in Review

NOVEMBER

- 2 Mr. Bowser, mountain climber, gives us the low-down on the high-up. Basketball practice under-way—the 400 swear off Nick O'Teen.
- 5 All who survived the tunnel of horrors whooped it up at the F. F. A. harvest dance. Sandra Stekl, after getting all dolled up, walks off with the "worst dressed" prize.
- 7 It's a boy! Mr. Scott passes out stogies to his home room—Bill Terbilcox staggers up for more.
- 11 Baraboo 61, Portage 0
- 15 The Polomeme Potters give us a demonstration.
- 19 Junior Class advisors go gray over cost of rented costumes for "Pride and Prejudice" but needlessly. The play is extremely successful.

DECEMBER

- 8 Salon Rizk, author of "Syrian Yankee", related his experiences in becoming Americanized. Glenn does a little out of season practicing—for benefit of the annual staff.
- 9 Habo Holt jilts Vickie for Uncle Sam: five service stars appear in window of Room 26.
- 12 Honor Roll is dedicated.
- 14 A Cappella and Band battle it out for rehearsal rights in auditorium. Both Christmas concerts are enjoyable.
- 20 David Brickl drops Miss Hammersley's fountain pen on its point—prepares to fail Latin. We could use Mr. Smith in here some place, but we're not that hard up.
- 22 Merry Christmas. See you after vacation. Senior pictures—Photographers: "These pans would certainly help defense."

JANUARY

- 3 Happy New Year, kids. I hope the girls—and the boys—are rested up for the Leap Year run.
- 7 In this corner we have Puss; in the opposite corner we have the Dells. But Baraboo won the game. Landon carried Mary's books for the 1394th time.
- 13 "mi mi mi mi . ." gee, I just can't seem to do it like Otto Schacht did in his activity program.
- 14 Mr. Gilbert donned his uniform appeal today as he made the third teacher to go into service this year.
- 26 Mr. Jones returned with a program on gyroscopes and proved they have more power than even Bob Weiske.
- 28 The Ag Department goes down for the second and last time as Joe Mulcahy leaves to make a closer study of beans. .
Miss Hammersley's book disappears in Advanced Latin class; evidently the class would rather talk about the Annual.

FEBRUARY

- 4 The Barateen game room opened. We wolfesses just can't figure out which side of the fence is greener. We get acquainted with Mr. Nelson and Mrs. French, the latest additions to the faculty.
- 11 Hearts and Cupids were all over at the U. S. O. Valentine Dance, but I didn't get "Pierced" once.
- 25 Baraboo-Reedsburg game, and boy did "we dood it" to their conference record!
Boys raffle off Prom dates at the Alpine girls peeved. I wonder why?
- 29 Girls, were those pigtails and jeans to streamline you for the Sadie Hawkins race? Cute!
"Boys, don't you play another play!"—Miss Hackett breaks up home room card game.

MARCH

- 6 Gym temperature 58°—Miss Forsythe goes home.
- 9-10 Baraboo plays Dr. Jeckl and Mr. Hyde style at basketball tournament to wind up in third place.
- 13 Bob Hill named Prom King. The crystal ball predicts L. V. E. will be queen. (see page 39)
- 24 Thalia-Ag plays out for defense as no shoes are worn in "Comin' 'Round the Mountain".
- 31 All current issues of Popular Science and American Magazines plus complete set of encyclopedia observed in the library at the same time: Miss Johnson found in state of shock.

APRIL

- 4 A Cappella heralds the Easter bunny. Orchids to Miss Haslanger for the outstanding concert of the year. Happy Easter—Egg! ?

- 10 Mr. Brown, not to be outdone, hands out chocolate Easter eggs. It's a girl.
- 19 Garner Smith adds "U S. N. R." to his study hall passes.
- 20 Stout Symphonic Singers "inconvenienced" us—"Yes, indeed".
- 24 Mr. Solum formally welcomes Spring with a "super" band concert.
Girls tearstained—Boys blue;
Coach inducted—good luck to you.
- 29 Prom Fashion Comments: Woof Woof. Fair. Umm. Aooooooooo.

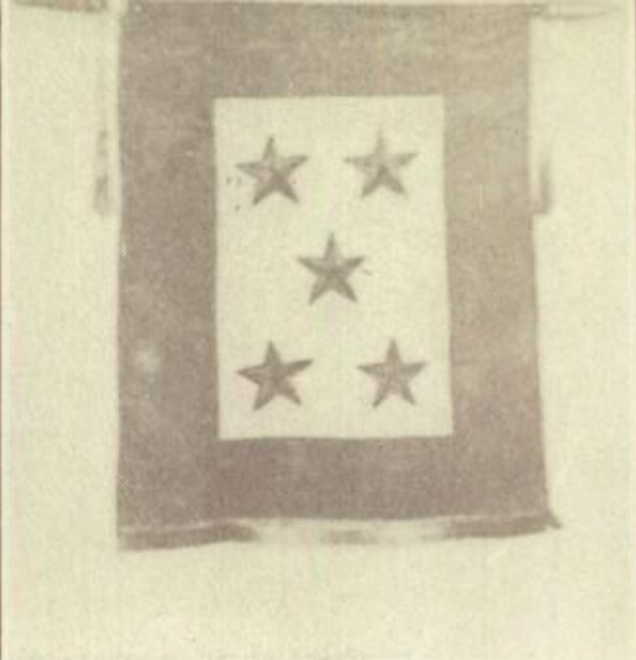

MAY

- 6 Baraboo gives all at the Music Tournament at Portage.
- 12-13 Track, Golf and Tennis tournaments at Madison.
- 28 Baccalaureate Services at the Presbyterian Church.
- 29 Senior Picnic. Honor Night.
- 31 Formal Banquet for Seniors.

JUNE

- 1 Commencement at Al Ringling Theater.
- 2 Last day of school. See you next year.

Oh ye sons of Baraboo High School
With a language all your own
One would think you were shut off
On a planet all alone.

"Dear Alumni:

"The boys made it number one at Edgewood with a 20-7 score. Although this was a non-conference battle, it shows us our strong and weak points and may indicate the trend of things to come.

"The boys made it number two last Friday night at Stoughton to the tune of 35-0. I'm still all smiles when I think of Harmel and T. Baumgarten going up and snaring those passes Holmes threw. We completed 15 out of 18 which is just about as good as you will ever see..... To me the best play of the game occurred when they punted to our Cady. He fumbled the ball momentarily and that gave our blockers time to get in position. He cut for the sidelines and the blocking was terrific. It seemed all I could see was purple jerseys being clipped down. He bumped into LeMoine on the 40 and stepped out of bounds. Two Stoughton men were out as a result of the hard blocking.

"The boys made it three in a row last Friday when they trounced a supposedly strong Wisconsin High Team 33-0 without too much effort.... Holmes used plays outside of tackle and then would lateral to Borck. One of these went 37 yards, to about the 3 yard line and Nick went over on the next play.

"We made it four in a row Friday afternoon by scoring a 35-0 victory over a fighting Wisconsin Dells team. Co-Captains Dick Arndt and George Howard, playing their last game before going to the Army Air Corps, did an outstanding piece of work.

"We are over the hump now, and should breeze through the rest of the games without too much trouble. The Richland Center team proved to be a tougher bunch than most of us had anticipated. They held us scoreless the first quarter, and 7-0 at halftime. The fellows got a little life during the half and come back strong to win 27-0.

"The boys really turned the heat on against Reedsburg and won by a 42-0 score. Harmel caught the impossible passes one-handed, and the easy ones with two hands. Reedsburg played a 7-diamond defense with their ends and backers-up very wide, so all we had to do was hit the ends in the middle with buck passes.

"The fellows overran the Sparta eleven in the last non-conference tilt with a score of 55-0

"The boys made this last game of the season the most outstanding victory of the year by crushing Portage with the heavy, lop-sided score of 61-0. The outstanding scorer was speedy Herb Cady who scored 32 points to set a new conference record for individual scoring in one game. Nick Holmes scored to bring his total to 95 points breaking the record for total points scored in a season by an individual. The points scored by the team brought its total up to 232 points to set the record for total points for a team.

"All together it was a record breaking game and a coach's dream.

Sincerely, Coach"

"Leather Slings"

Again the boxers of Baraboo High School, from seventh to twelfth grade, stepped into the ring to stage some of the most outstanding fights in history. This feat was made possible by Mr. Brown's careful supervision as coach and the individual effort of each boy in improving his abilities.

The School Athletic Association and the American Legion jointly sponsored these boxing matches. The Legion gives the boxers a dinner, presents Golden Gloves to the winners, and to a boy who loses in the finals, but puts up a very good fight, a Fightin'est Fight Glove is given.

The boys are divided into different classes according to weight, ability, and experience. All of the boxers fight in the semi-finals. The two winners in each class go to the finals to determine the champ of the class and winner of the coveted Golden Gloves.

Jim Meyer, a Senior, deserves much credit for his fine work in boxing. During the five years Jim has been out for boxing, he has won four Golden Gloves, losing only one. He is truly a typical, hardworking boxer of Baraboo High School.

Graduating...

DICK ARNDT. Dick played running guard with a sixth sense which enabled him to play the position unsurpassed throughout this football conference. His blocks were a main factor in making possible many long gains. He now does his high flying for the Army Air Force.

DUANE HARMEL. This year was the climax to Puss's fine career of High School football at end. He has pulled down passes that many coaches would have said their boys did a good job in touching. Puss is also a three letter man in basketball.

BOB BACH. Louie, one of Baraboo's outstanding players had hard luck this year, breaking his collarbone early in the football season. In order to redeem himself he came back strongly on the basketball court as one of the most valuable men.

DAVID HOLADAY. Dave played reserve tackle during the first four games of the season. With the departure of men to the service Dave was called upon to fill the assignment of regular tackle. He did this and the results were excellent.

GRANT BUELOW. Grant was part of Baraboo's reserve strength. He played guard with a combination of speed, power, and brain which is undoubtedly the best thing to have on a football field. He also won his letter as a hurdler in track.

HERB CADY. Speed was Herb's dish and he had plenty to burn. He ended his career with a scoring spree against Portage by running over five touchdowns and two extra points. His speed and agility on the basketball court were also of use.

GEORGE HOWARD. When the Army Air country, Baraboo's football team suffered a severe blow. George was outstanding in the tackle position. He also excelled in track in the 440 as well as the relay.

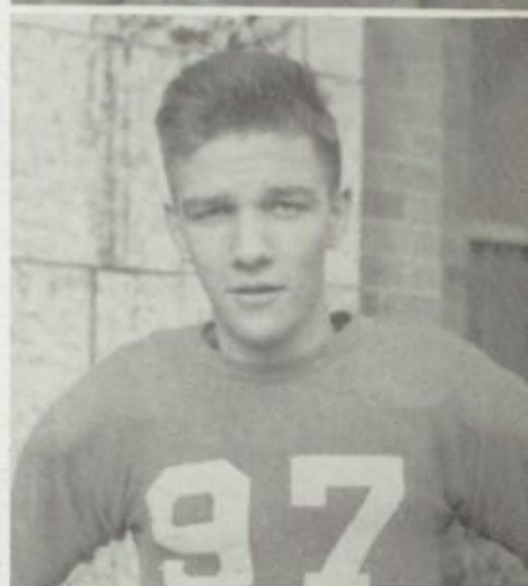

KEN LEMOINE. A blocking quarterback deluxe. His deadly tackling had bone-crushing effect, sending many an opponent to the bench. Ken also won a track letter in the 100 and the 200 yard dashes. His talent is now being used by the U. S. Navy.

NICK HOLMES. A power laden, pile driving fullback. When there wasn't a hole to run through, Nick just plowed right on anyway. He ran up 95 points to set a new conference individual scoring record. He is a bulwark on the basketball team also.

MARK STONE. During his three football years, Mark missed scarcely a day of practice and could always be depended on to fill in, in case of injury or any other mishap. He performed his job conscientiously, contributing some fine work.

HAROLD HOLT. Habo was a stalwart guard, especially useful on defense. Submarining was his specialty and many is the time he came up from under the pile with a mouthful of dirt. Habo now expends his talents for the U. S. Army.

BOB WEISKE. The football center. A better player could not be found, as Bob didn't make a bad pass all season. His ability to give and take (mostly take) was of vast importance in the team's triumphs. He was also a discus man in track.

... Lettermen

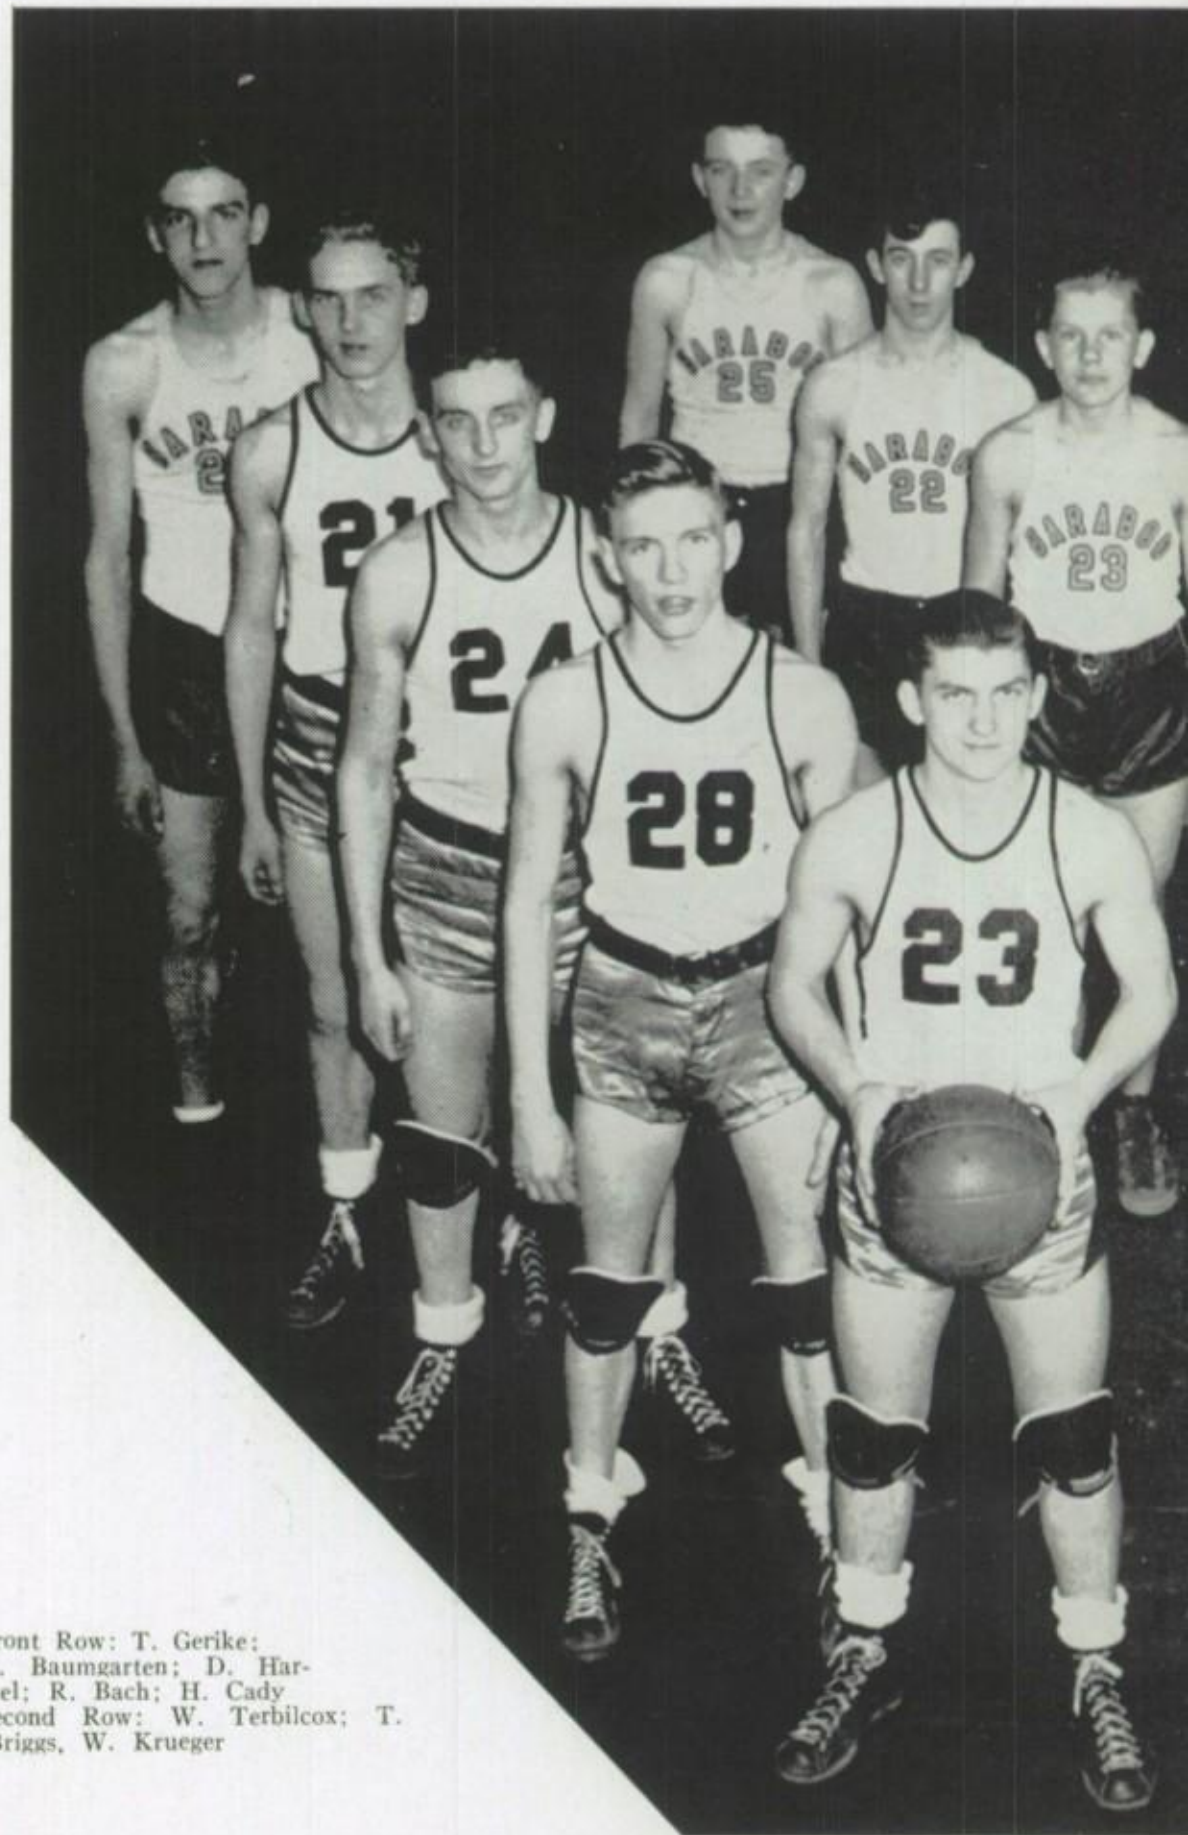

PAUL KRUEGER
Coach

After a successful football season, Coach Krueger issued a call for basketball tryouts which was answered by six lettermen, two transfer students, a junior and a sophomore. The veterans were Herb Cady, Ted Baumgarten, Nick Holmes, "Puss" Harniel, Bob Bach, and Louie Borck. Two letter men who would've been a great help to the team this year were called into service. They are John Meyer and Ken LeMoine.

The team opened their season by losing to Prairie du Sac. The fellows couldn't get rolling and it was a rather disappointing start. The next game opened up our conference play and the boys came through with an overtime victory against Fort Atkinson. The team showed much improvement and were branded as the conference "dark horse", which role it lived up to throughout the season. The next game the locals traveled to Edgerton to meet the potential conference champions and came home with another defeat. Edgerton, an exceptionally tall team, managed to share the conference crown with Reedsburg and Wisconsin High. Baraboo suffered its second defeat in as many weeks when they were beaten by Wisconsin High in the Wisconsin Field House. The next four weeks Baraboo proved that it was a dangerous foe by beating three conference and one non-conference foe. They defeated Richland Center, Mauston, Wisconsin Dells, and Portage. The good luck and good playing was halted by Reedsburg's scrappy co-champions who had little trouble pounding out an easy win. The next game with Stoughton the Circus City cagers failed to come through and the Hub City team eked out a narrow win. The next two games saw Baraboo living up to their pre-season's predictions by winning two games by top heavy scores against Richland Center, and Wisconsin Dells. Both bad and good luck hit the team at this point when Otto Baumgarten was lost to the Army Air Corps, while Bob McCabe, a transfer from Berlin, Wisconsin, joined the team and proved his worth for the remainder of the season. The next two games resulted in defeats by weak teams in close scores—Monroe and Portage. The next encounter resulted in the conference's biggest upset of the year as the team traveled to Reedsburg and knocked the Purple and White team from an undisputed championship to a three-way tie.

Baraboo ended up in tie for second place with Monroe for this year's effort aside from taking consolation honors in the Regional tourney held at Reedsburg. The blue and gold clad cagers defeated Mauston in their first game and were defeated by Montello in their second game. The boys came back to defeat Rio in their third game

TENNIS

Bob Vogel and Lamoine Larrabee on the doubles and Russ Potratz and Landon Risteen as the singles men drilled under their new mentor, Mr. Brown. They had a fair season last year.

The team went into the first match without the services of John Meyers who was called to the Marines. While putting up a good fight, Baraboo lost to a veteran Reedsburg team 3 to 1. The return match was finally cancelled because of rain.

In the match with Portage, the doubles team lost and the singles men won. In the return match, Portage really turned on the heat and won 4 to 0.

Still stinging from this defeat, the boys went to Madison for the conference meet. Due to the efforts of Russ Potratz, the team ended in fourth place, with Ft. Atkinson nosing out Reedsburg for first place. The team gained four points in the district meet at Madison through Landon Risteen's efforts.

TRACK

Baraboo opened its track season with a rather inexperienced squad, but hard training plus the will to win produced a successful season.

In their first meet, which was with Wisconsin High, Baraboo overwhelmed them 73 to 39. Reedsburg and Wisconsin Dells fell to Baraboo's power in a triangular meet. The improving trackmen then met Reedsburg, Wisconsin High, and Wisconsin Dells in an Invitational and won easily with 72 points. The Southern Ten Conference meet proved to be a thriller. On a rainy, mud-soaked track, Baraboo lost the championship to Fort Atkinson by a score of 67 to 65.

In the Sectional, which replaced the State Tournament, Baraboo placed third, totaling 22 points.

Outstanding performers for Baraboo last year were Capt. Ed. Zellmer, Lewis Borck, Tom Donahue, and Adair Blisch.

Unfortunately no track picture was taken last spring because of the improbability of an annual this year.

INTRAMURALS

This year the intramurals started with the Rockets, last year's winners as favorites. At the start of the season, the B squad and the 2nd Ward also looked good by beating the 1st and 3rd Wards. As the season progressed, so did the 1st Ward for at the end of the season they had won 5, losing only one, to cop first place. Second place was held by the Rockets who had won 4 and lost 2, both to the 1st Ward, the last of which decided the conference winner. B Squad came in third and 3rd Ward Last. According to custom, the 1st Ward champs played the faculty in the final highlight of the season.

Baraboo had a very successful golf season in 1943. Spring Green held us to a tie score on their own course, but at a triangular meet later in the season we won 12 to 0. Baraboo won from Portage 12 to 0 at Portage, 11½ to ½ at Baraboo. The Conference Meet was held in Madison, being played on Monona Course in a heavy rain which caused the scores to be higher than they would have been over a dry course. Baraboo won the championship with a score of 350, with Fort Atkinson in second place with 391, Richland Center in third place with 395, and Wisconsin High fourth with 414.

Due to travel restrictions, it was decided that no state meet should be held in 1943, but that a number of sectional meets would take the place of the state meet. Baraboo sponsored one of the sectional meets, at which meet Baraboo, La Crosse, Madison East, Spring Green and Eau Claire participated. Baraboo won the sectional championship with a score of 237, La Crosse Central being runner-up with a score of 254. The high-light of this meet was the fact that Harlan Page was medalist with a score of 76 while Milner and Arndt were in second and third places.

What Has Passed

Gee, but we're old. Just think—Seniors! How long we've hoped for and respected the title. Remember four years ago when we all came together in the northern half of the Junior High main room? Right then and there our class sort of beamed above the rest. Some of the memorable things of our freshman year were the founding of a victorious G. A. A. Class Basketball team, our matinee dances supervised by Miss Williams when the girls tried to teach the "Island Rats" the finer points—yes, 'tes up boys, its true. Then came the Junior Prom and our first opportunity to shine with the rest. About a half dozen couples got Brave, Beautitul, and last of all Broke as they represented us Freshies on the tail end of the Grand March. That year we were first introduced to those little gremlins called "credits", but Lady Luck brought most of us through the tunnel to the other side of the fence. I still don't know which side is greener.

Talk about hicks! I wish I could have had roller skates that first day in the new building; or even big signs would have helped. But there were more red faces worn when we'd discovered ourselves in a boy's gym class instead of home ec—or something on that order. At the first assembly program when Mr. Willson gave his welcoming speech most of us had a funny feeling in the pit of our stomachs. It was an indescribable sensation. The Seniors soon put us very much at ease with their welcoming "Senior-Sophomore Shuffle." There was a touch of excitement—or call it "domestic labor", in 1942, too—remember the walk out? Oh yes—'nough said. That year went very fast, and before we knew it, we were Juniors.

That seemed to be our starring year. "Henry Aldrich" went over with a bang, and provided plenty of money for a good Junior Prom. Many a night we pounded nails in our thumbs, but the decorations were worth it. "As Time Goes By" was the theme chosen, and it was a great success. Incidentally, don't forget the Victory corsages. A few of the girl's plans were upset that year because the manpower shortage first began to effect us in our Junior year. Letters from Marines were the main topic of conversation, and we began to realize what the war was all about. Towards spring class rings started showing themselves, and a few of them were exchanged—Sentimentalists! ! ! The war even influenced our ring design, "The Air Cadet." All good things must come to an end, and our Junior year was no exception.

Ah! mighty seniors, at long last. It was a very unsettled year though. The first day of school we noticed a lot of southern accents in our classroom, whose families were connected with the B. O. W., but one by one they drifted away from Baraboo, and Badger City. After the first six weeks more and more of the senior boys went into Service. It was hard to see them go, and they were always a very welcome sight when a furlough would come up. Our Prom was held the 28th of April, and it certainly seemed nice to be "guests." Naturally, everyone looked forward to graduation—some hopefully, and others regretfully. It has been a wonderful four years, and now we're going to try to make the world safe and happy so the coming classes can have their share of happiness.

Valedictorian

Each year the Senior Honor Roll is announced. It consists of those who have the highest grade average for their four years of high school work. The two students with the highest averages automatically become valedictorian and salutatorian. Honor Roll averages are all above ninety.

Extra Curricular —

. . . the spice of school life

At one of the earliest meetings of the year we elected our new officers. They are: Joyce Herfort, President; Janet Hill, vice-president; Marjorie McGilvra, treasurer. Miss Ethel Crandall was chosen as the new advisor to assist Miss Leila Johnson.

The next meeting was for election of our twenty new members. We had the formal induction services at the city library followed by the informal initiation the next day in school which proved very amusing.

During the year we have had our semi-monthly pot-luck supper meetings. They were a lot of fun and very successful despite food rationing.

Thalia sponsored a play writing contest for one of the three one-act plays of the Ag. Thalia Performances. The one that was chosen, "Opera House" by Sandra Stekl, proved to be very good. The other two were a comedy, "Coming Round the Mountain" and "The Valiant", a very dramatic presentation. The plays were very well directed by Miss Ethel Crandall and assisted by Thalia student directors.

We had several very interesting and entertaining book reviews during the year.

It is customary every year to have a Mother and Daughter tea to be held in the spring of the year. The Junior girls who are members of Thalia are the hostesses to the Mothers and Senior girls.

One of the most irksome duties of the Junior girls is to clean up the Thalia room by washing walls, curtains, and slipcovers.

The Thalia formal banquet held at the close of each year is a beautiful and happy occasion which the Thalia members will remember with joy in years to come.

Leaders in Clubs —

Bi-monthly, the Senior Hi-Y meets for a supper meeting in the old home ec room. The regular meetings are interspersed occasionally with guest speakers who are very entertaining and educating.

Several annual events are sponsored and put on by this group. A Father and Son banquet is always one of the highlights of the year. The formal induction service, held by candle light, is very impressive and beautiful. Each year a sleigh ride is shared with the Thalia girls and is eagerly looked forward to.

The Junior Hi-Y meets every week the Senior Club doesn't, and it is composed of fellows who are juniors and sophomores. This group cooperates with the Senior Hi-Y in sponsoring events and are included on the sleigh ride.

A second hand book store which proves very convenient is operated jointly by the two clubs. They buy and sell used text books at the beginning of each semester. This has been a marvelous help to the students in securing books. The combined clubs donate money for several movies which were given during the home-room period for the enjoyment of the entire school. At present, arrangements are being made by the Junior and Senior Hi-Y's with the Thalia to fix over one of the rooms in the Junior High School.

When remodeled and redecorated, this room would serve for a meeting place for both Hi-Y's and for Thalia. The arrangements are coming along very well and we expect to have this room ready presently.

The officers of the Senior Club are: Duane Harmel, president; Bob Weiske, vice-president; Robert Vogel, secretary; and Herb Cady, treasurer. Those of the Junior Club are: Ted Baumgarten, president; Louis Borck, vice-president; Frank Terbilox, secretary; and John Orton, treasurer.

Under Miss Forsythe, our new Physical Education teacher, the Girls' Athletic Association has again become the largest organization in school with its Junior High and Senior High divisions.

One of the highlights of the year was the horseback ride from the lake after which we warmed-up on hotdogs and hot chocolate. We well remember the day when the excited seniors won the volleyball championship from the more excited freshmen. Also the day the "Cubs" won over the "Giants" in a rough and close game. The all-time high of the year was the "Boy and Girl Party" where half of the girls dressed as boys and exchanged dances for their girls. The Junior High G. A. A. had a Valentine party to which they asked the boys. They danced to swing and boogie-woogie after which the girls brought refreshments to the boys.

Each year the girls participate in sports after school for which they earn two points an hour. A large "B" is given to any girls who earn 1500 points. This is the goal for which everyone strives, but only a few put in the many hours of recreation to receive the letter. Many members received the small awards for earning 200 points.

The Junior High officers are: President, Shirley Knerr; and Secretary-Treasurer, Marilyn Schroeder.

Third row: V. Hein, Business Manager; D. Brickl, Sports Section.

Although the annual always seems to demand unlimited time, this year the staff was kept doubly alert by problems of publication—from learning the procedure for an engraved book to scouring the country for films and flashbulbs. A cover design by Joan Osborne had to be cancelled because of shortages and expense of materials involved. But in spite of priorities and our expectations a year ago at this time, we have published a book.

In order to distribute the responsibility and experience among a greater number of students, the staff was organized with an editor for each section. All articles have been written by students with two exceptions. (Sections of Coach's letters to the alumni were quoted because they present interesting details of the games; Mr. Solum wrote the articles for the band pages.) Student Council members took the responsibility of sales in the fall. The business and professional men of Baraboo were generous in their support, as well as the students, and a total of 465 books was sold.

"Pride and Prejudice"

The three act romantic comedy, "Pride and Prejudice", was presented by this year's Junior Class under the direction of Miss Ethel Crandall. The play was written by Jane Kendall.

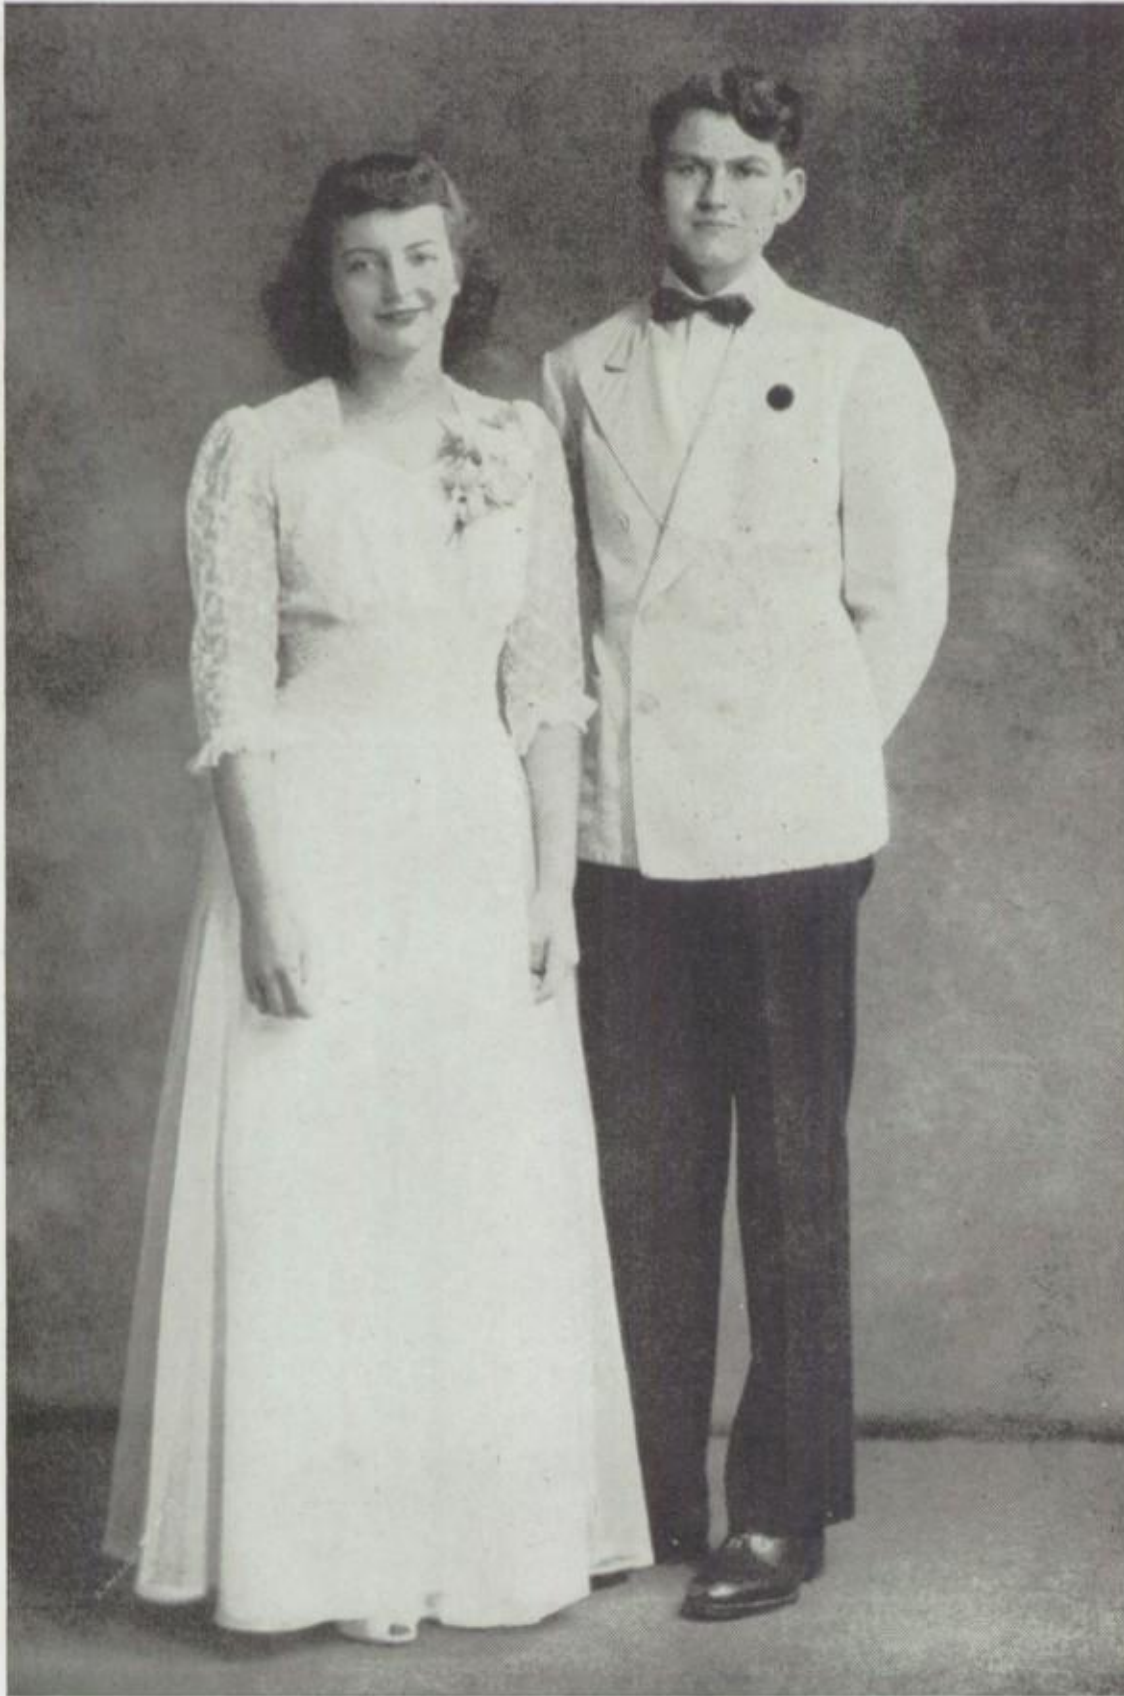

The play is the life of the Bennett family. Mrs. Bennett is a frivolous, irresponsible, and inveterate matchmaker. Her greatest ambition in life is to see her five daughters married. Mr. Bennett is a man of culture and taste, whose sense of dry humor is sprinkled generously throughout the play. The five daughters and their many suitors add the romantic color. In the last act Mrs. Bennett discovers three of her daughters ready for matrimony and she has won.

The setting is Longbourn, the Bennett home in Herfordshire, England. The time is about 1800. The cast rented the Napoleonic costumes from Brooks, New York.

The success of the play was due to the splendid direction of Miss Crandall and the cooperation of the makeup department and stage crew.

"Comin' Round the Mountain": standing—W. Rooney (Pap Judkins), M. McGilvra (Mrs. Hortense Bellmont Cliff), O. Trager (Mr. Newbold), J. Osborne (Millicent). Seated—J. Peck (Maw Judkins), D. St. John (baby), M. Edwards (Dynamite Ann), B. Wickus (Daisy), R. Nicholson (Zeke).
 "The Valiant": L. Risteen (Father Daly), D. Posen (Guard), R. Bach (James Dyke), J. Mott (Warden), M. Mandt (Josephine Parris), K. Wilcox (attendant).
 "Open House": standing—F. Lehnerr (mother), M. Poole (Twerp).
 Seated—B. Hill (Larry), B. Bartholomew (Margie), L. Roth (Harry), F. Zimmerman (Chuck).

Thalia-Ag Dramatics

The setting of "Comin' 'Round the Mountain" is a typical mountain cabin. As the play opens, Daisy, a young mountain girl is asleep on the sofa. Zeke finds it difficult to keep her awake long 'nough to 'apop to her. They are interrupted by a shout for help from Mrs. Bellmont Cliff whose car broke down. Hortense and her niece, who has fainted, are brought into the cabin by Dynamite Ann, Sheriff. They tell of being robbed by a masked bandit. Dynamite Ann tries to solve the problem but is beat to the draw by Pap Judkins who has the varmint tied up in the barn. In the meantime Millicent has been rejoined with her lover, Mr. Newbold. He has made plans with the mountain folk to take them to Chicago to sing hillbilly songs over the air. Daisy, who is now too excited to sleep, consents to marry Zeke.

"Open House" was written by Sandra Stekl, winning the play-writing contest sponsored by the Thalia-Ag clubs. In this problem play, Margie, the typical high school girl with a smooth line, has considerable trouble "stringing" along Harry, Chuck, and Larry who all arrive on the same weekend. But with the aid of Mother and Twerp, her little sister, Margie pulls through. Twerp turns the occasion into a money making proposition by "fixing" it so each boy can have a minute alone with Margie. Each one leaves a note on the stand as they say good-bye, and, to Margie's amazement, they all plan to visit her the next weekend, "to have her prove what she said".

In "The Valiant", the curtain rises upon the warden's office in the State Prison. Warden Holt and Father Daly are discussing the prisoner, James Dyke, who is to be executed that night. They believe that he is withholding his true identity to shield his family. People have written letters to him trying to establish relationship. Josephine Paris visits Dyke at the last hour to find if he is her long lost brother. Dyke tells her a false tale of a boy he knew during the war in France, a boy who died a hero. He makes her believe the hero was her brother, but after her departure reveals his true identity by quoting poetry known only by Joseph Anthony Paris, her brother. As Dyke is led to the execution room he quotes, "The valiant never taste of death but once".

Barateen

The club Barateen is an offspring of the original Club Broadway sponsored by the Student Council. The Barateen has helped to solve some of the recreation problems for youth in our city, by providing a wholesome evening's entertainment for high school students.

It has grown and progressed so far that it is now considered one of the extra curricular organizations in the school. This year is the first year that committee members have received any credit for their work. Club Barateen is open to all students from Freshmen to Seniors but the work is done by the committee members who are: Duane Harmel, president; Gene Gamble, secretary; David Brickl, treasurer; Virginia Peck; Martha Felgen; Bob Curry; Marjorie Mandt; Joan Schult; Ted Briggs; Janet Hill; Bill Terbilcox; Sue Amundson; Mary Wieske; and Dick Raabe. Our faculty advisor, Mr. Garner Smith, has been very patient, cooperative, and helpful in promoting the club Barateen in all it has accomplished.

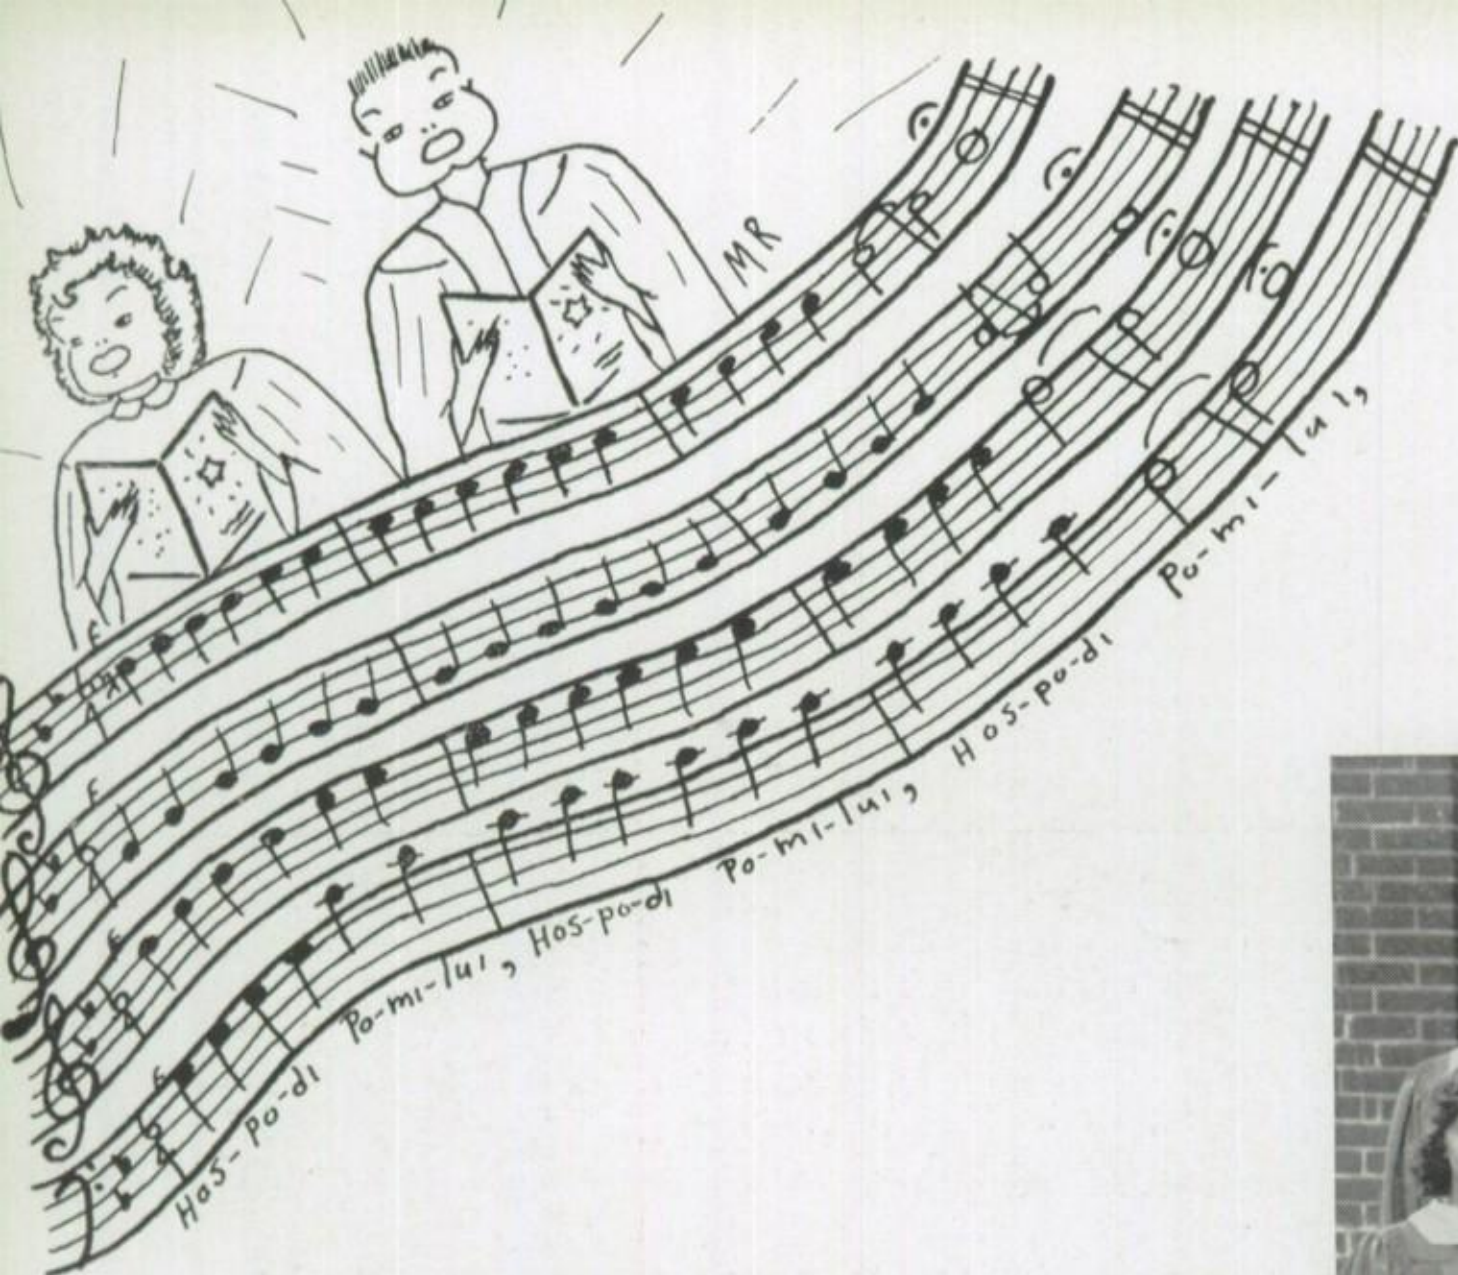

The club is now held in the K. P. Hall and W. R. C. Hall on Friday or Saturday nights, the admission being a nickle and coke, candy, and gum are sold from an alcove at the side of the dance floor. The W. R. C. Hall is for games which consist of ping pong, checkers, cards, and other miscellaneous board games.

The Barateen is formally sponsored by the Local Lions Club. Mr. A. H. Radke is chairman of the Barateen section and has been very energetic in promoting our club. The Lions Club members act as chaperones with their wives every night that the club is open.

The finances are handled through the committee members by the admission charge and the candy profits.. The Lions Club furnished most of the games for the game room although some were donated.

The activities of the club this year have been weekly dances until the last semester when the game room was opened in addition. New Year's Eve was celebrated by a big dance with decorations of red and white streamers and evergreens.

When Miss Haslanger steps out on to the stage to direct any of her musical groups, one of the first things you notice is the ease and grace with which she controls them. She possesses their undivided attention and loyalty. From backstage you could see her give a smile of encouragement, unnoticed by the audience, but immeasurable in giving assurance to the choir.

The A Cappella choir is one of our school's most honored organizations. The choir is made up of 42 members which are chosen from the Boy's and Girl's Glee Clubs. The choir meets on Mondays and Wednesdays during the sixth hour.

This fall we were very sorry to lose Dick Arndt and George Howard who answered Uncle Sam's call to service. A farewell picnic was given in their honor at Devil's Lake just before they left. The choir members, including Miss Haslanger, played football and afterwards enjoyed a pot luck supper.

The A Cappella gave a concert at the U. S. O. club on the anniversary of the founding of the club here. They sang a group of three numbers, "Madame Jeanette", a song of an old French lady who waits for her husband to return after the last war although he has been killed; "Tradi Nuka", a Latvian folk song; and "Open Our Eyes", a religious number. A great many of the songs the A Cappella sings are religious. During Christmas week the choir gave a concert for the Kiwanis club who invited the entire choir for dinner at the hotel afterwards. The choir wishes to thank the Kiwanis Club and Mr. Ben Jones who entertained them there.

The A Cappella has chosen as their officers for this year: Duane Harmel, president; Marjorie Mandt, secretary; Marvel Gasser, librarian; Gene Gamble, student council representative.

The Easter music this year was the cantata "Olivet to Calvary" by Mauder. Perhaps the best known arias from it are "The March to Calvary" and "Before Pilate".

If you should happen to wander through our school some Tuesday or Thursday between 3:45 and 4:15 you would be sure to hear melodious strains seeping out of the auditorium where our own 70 future Lily Pons' and Jeanette MacDonalds are attending the Girl's Glee Club.

The officers this year are: Marjorie Mandt, president; Gene Gamble, secretary-treasurer; Grace Austin, Student Council representative. Martha Rachor is our pianist and Marvel Gasser our capable librarian.

The entertainment for Mr. Smith's homeroom every Tuesday and Thursday is amply provided for by the Boy's Glee Club who meets directly below in Miss Haslanger's room. The club is made up of 47 members which include the best tenors and basses in the school. We regret that some of the boys no longer can attend because they are now serving in the armed forces.

The boys have been working on a variety of numbers this year but it seems the favorites are the negro spirituals such as "Climb Up, Ye Little Children" which a small part of the Glee Club did for the radio program during Fellowship Week.

Music Maestros All

Baraboo High School boasts a very fine orchestra which furnishes the musical touch for most of the high school programs and plays. Its rehearsals are held one a week with an occasional supplementary practice for the strings. They also entertained at the anniversary of the local U. S. O. Club.

Orchestra is composed of six violins, two clarinets, two cornets, a drum, tenor sax, 'cello, and a French horn. Next year will find a changed orchestra, for many of the prominent members will graduate this spring. Among these pre-grads are Grant Buelow, Eleanor Voss, Virginia Oldenburg, Joyce Ramsdell, Robert Hein, and Landon Risteen. Of course we will still have many veterans to carry us through; for instance, Marvel Gasser has played in this group since fourth grade and is the outstanding violinist.

Officers are Dorothy Campbell, president; Marguerite Stoeckmann, secretary-treasurer; and Landon Risteen, student council representative.

On Monday you will usually find them in the middle of a strictly classical selection like "Persian Market" or "Gavotte". This is occasionally interrupted by a squeak or muffled roar from Landon who is so often trying out new parts on his violin and constantly utilizing the parts all ready there at the wrong time. One of the most difficult parts of the music played in orchestra is that it has so many rests—that is, all but the violins. All in all, our fourteen musicians deserve a lot of credit.

There are nearly one hundred students enrolled in band work; sixty-five are members of the concert band. Due to war conditions, the band did not attend a festival last spring, but at the time this is being written, plans are being made to attend one in May at Portage.

On February 22, the annual band party was held at the U. S. O. The letters for the seniors failed to arrive so they will be presented at a later date. Seniors eligible for letters are: B. Albrecht, G. Buelow, M. Felgen, J. Harnish, F. Lehnherr, M. Mandt, M. McGilvra, M. Reul, J. Schult, B. Senger, R. Stanley, R. Vogel, and E. Voss. The program at the party was enlarged upon this year, including the band seniors' will and prophecy, and other humor-

Mr. Solum is very proud of the band this year and regrets the leaving of so many fine senior members. The band has been called upon to do a lot of playing during the past year and he says the cooperation of the students has been wonderful on all occasions. The band members showed their appreciation to Mr. Solum by presenting him with a lovely gift at the Christmas Concert.

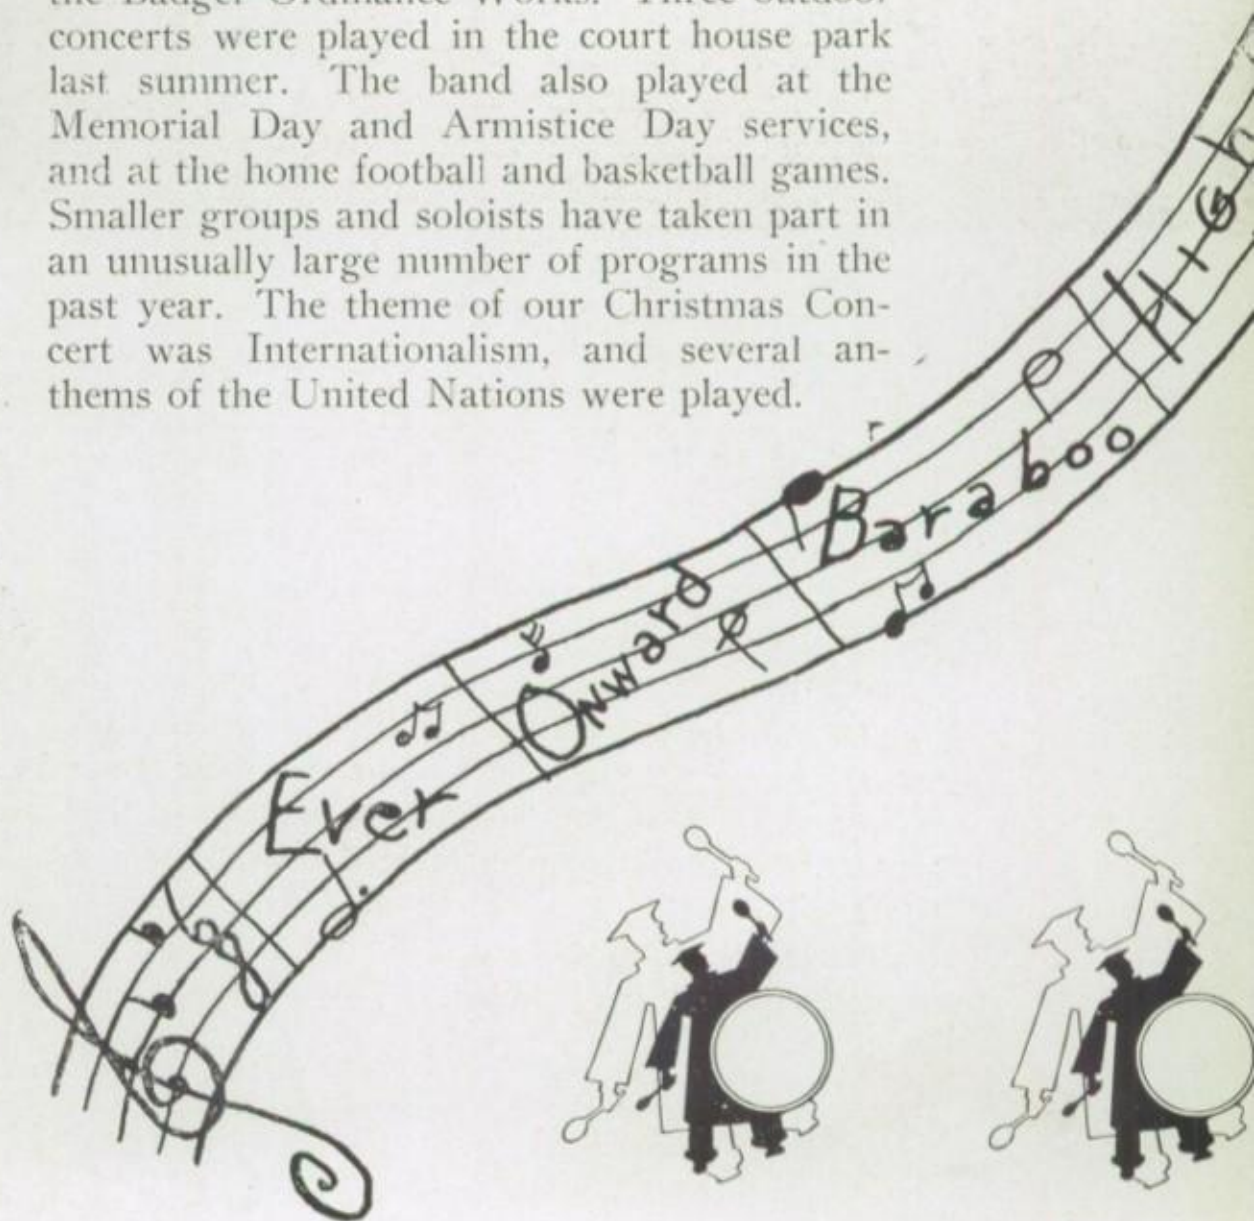

ous sketches by the senior band members. Mrs. H. Hill, president of the Band Mothers, and Mr. Alexander and Miss Ethel Fitzpatrick of the U. S. O. gave short talks. Mr. Solum read an original poem about the seniors.

Last May the girls of the band presented a very lovely solo and ensemble program which was called "The Hour of Charm". In most of the numbers the girls wore beautiful pastel formals, which, added to the lovely music, made the program a very delightful event. On Honor Night undergraduate letters were presented to F. Lehnerr, M. Mandt, B. Rehbein, M. Reul, R. Stanley, and E. Voss.

Last fall the band played at the dedication of Badger Village, the new "boom-town" near the Badger Ordinance Works. Three outdoor concerts were played in the court house park last summer. The band also played at the Memorial Day and Armistice Day services, and at the home football and basketball games. Smaller groups and soloists have taken part in an unusually large number of programs in the past year. The theme of our Christmas Concert was Internationalism, and several anthems of the United Nations were played.

No one can complain about "student rights" with our efficient Student Council in working order. Mr. Smith is the advisor and the officers are Don Fellows, president; Gene Gamble, vice president; and Marjorie Geoghegan, secretary-treasurer.

A few of the members act as M. P.'s each year and make the rounds, inspecting the lockers. In case any scratch paper or rubbish has gone A. W. O. L., they set it right.

One of the many duties of the Student Council is to help with the collection of money for the various war organizations and Red Cross. The Defense Stamp Day, established last year by the Council, was continued this year. They also donated money for the fixing of the Hi-Y Club room and the rental of a typewriter for the Annual Staff. Then too, they made the Annual Staff happy with their fine co-operation in selling annuals.

For extra recreation for Senior and Junior High students, a committee of the Student Council members met with a committee of the School Activities group to rent a full length movie, "Young Mr. Lincoln". This was financed by the Thalia, F. F. A., Hi-Y, and Student Council together.

Under the direction and help of the Student Council and U. S. O. committees, a special time was set aside for high school students to use the entertainment facilities at the U. S. O. The hours were determined by the Junior and Senior classes.

Latin Club

One of the joys of being a Latin student is belonging to Latin Club. It is both educational and entertaining. Each year the sophomore students attempt revenge by making the freshmen members undergo a more exciting initiation than theirs was, and this year outdid them all in humor.

Our officers are David Brickl, president; Martha Rachor, vice-president; Landon Risteen, secretary; Lloyd Lang, treasurer; Glenn Quale, student council representative.

A very enjoyable meeting was held in February at the Stekl home, where some Latin skits were presented by the first year students. Then Dr. and Mrs.

Stekl showed movies of their travels through Italy, and refreshments completed a lovely evening.

The meetings are versatile, even to extent of carving models of statutes and buildings out of soap at the March meeting.

Towards the end of the year the Latin Club was honored by a visit from Professor Walter Agard of the Classics Department of the University of Wisconsin. He spoke on "What Democracy Meant to the Greeks".

In case the Latin students seem to blush more easily than others, it is only because they know what "Ego amo te" means.

Forensics

With considerable interest and enthusiasm students participated in six divisions of forensic activities this year: humorous and serious declamations, extemporaneous speaking, current events discussion, and radio speaking. Miss Arveson and Miss Risetter were the advisors.

The declamation group presented two auditorium programs which served as the school elimination contest. Several students participated in the oratorical contest. Extemporaneous speaking called for quick thinking, presence of mind and a good memory. After selecting a subject, the participant is allowed one hour in which to organize his material before presenting it.

Baraboo was host to the sectional forensic contest. Our representatives were Grace Austin, serious declamation; Judy Radke, humorous declamation; Stanley Hanna, orator; and Wendell Craker, extemporaneous speaking. From this contest, Grace, Stanley, and Wendell were chosen to go to the district meeting at Stoughton, and Stanley continued on to represent us at Madison.

The current events discussion group meets one evening a week to consider various up-to-the-minute topics of the state, nation, and world. Like the radio-speaking group, this was a new project which was considered interesting and worthwhile by those who participated, and which will doubtless be expanded next year.

“Living to Serve”

“Learning to Do, Doing to Learn, Earning to Live, Living to Serve”, is the motto of an up and coming group of boys who intend to be farmers. The Future Farmers of America consists of boys who take agriculture and are interested in this as their career. These boys are the successful agriculturalists of the coming day. They will be the ones who raise food for a nation not long out of war, a nation whose victory was costly. The Future Farmers will take the place of their fathers who helped rebuild America after the First World War.

These boys have had to sacrifice their immediate future to the war as have so many other people. Mr. Arley Heinze, who taught here for nearly four years, went into service in the fall of 1943. At the semester, the war took our second Agriculture teacher, Mr. Mulcahy. At present their advisor is Mr. Smith, the American History teacher. The boys had to change to other courses, but they are not complaining. They will calmly wait until peace reigns again to finish their learning.

The local chapter of the F.F.A. which is a state and national organization meets every other Tuesday night, with each second meeting as a potluck supper. At the first meeting this year the following officers were elected: Lawrence Roth, president; Robert Hill, vice president; Orlan Trager, secretary; Keith Wilcox, treasurer; and Floyd Zimmerman, reporter.

The following offices can be attained: the Greenhand, which is the first year agriculturalist receives a bronze pin; the Chapter Farmer, which is the second year, receives a silver pin; the Wisconsin Farmer, the third year, has a gold pin; and the American Farmer, the fourth year, receives a gold key.

Some of the activities of the year have been a Hard Times Dance, a stand at the Football Field, a camping trip to Devil's Lake, an advertising blotter, and a F.F.A. Basketball team.

Front Row: L. Felgen, S. Golmar, D. House, B. Bartholomew, G. Austin, M. Scott, E. Olson, A. Bresnahan
 Second Row: Miss Forsythe, M. Geoghan, E. Dennis, M. Edwards, L. White, L. Von Etzen, N. Fredman, G. Madalon.

“Yellow and Blue--- we’re all for you”

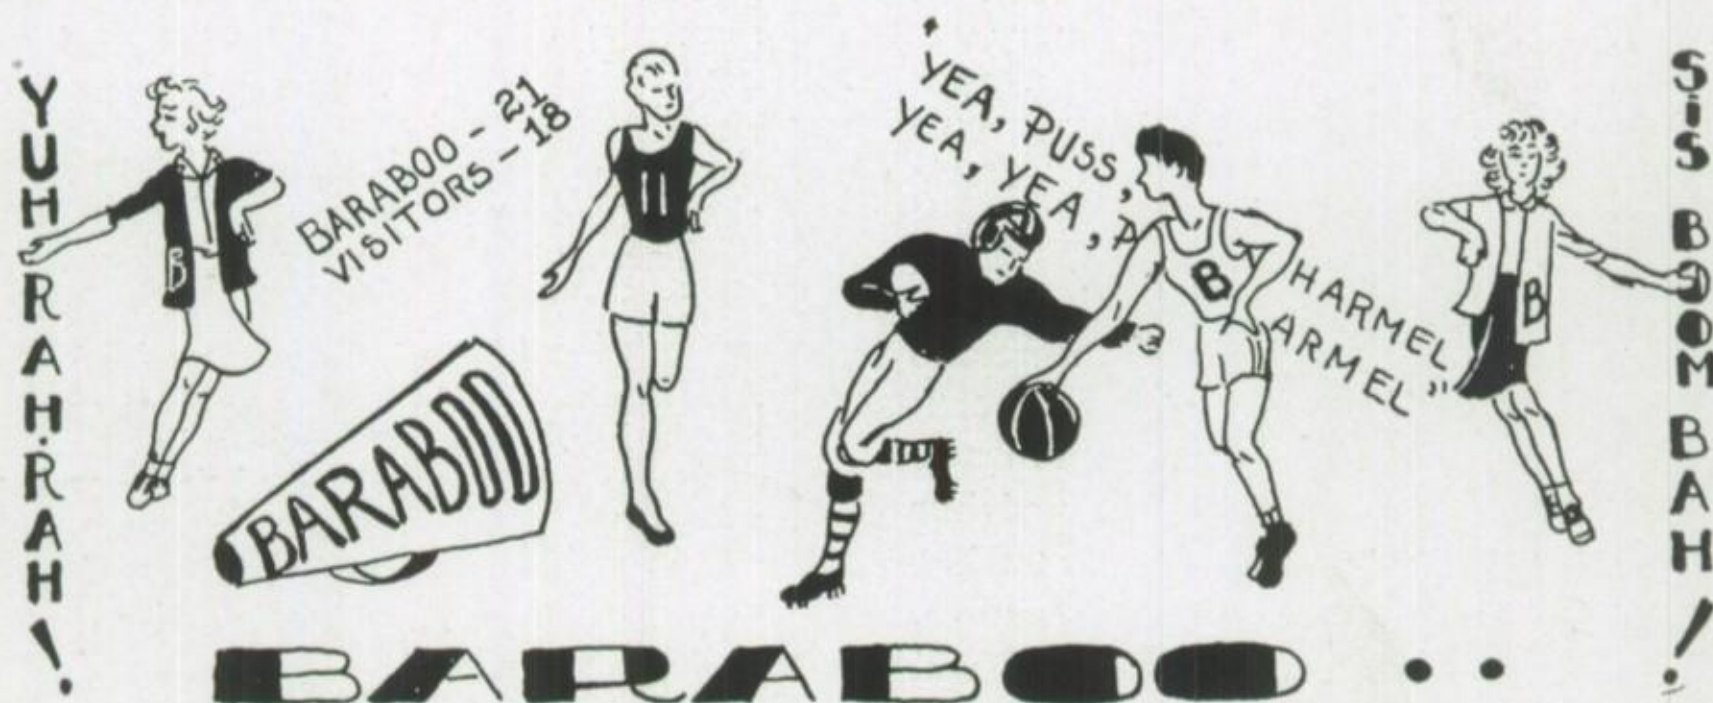

The activities of the year were somewhat held up until the constitution was re-written and then new members were elected. The new members elected were Joan Dennis, Evelyn Baumgarten, Helen Isenberg, Betty Hanley, Sandra Stekl, Sue Amundson, Delores Eckes, Virginia Isenberg, Janet Hill, Gene Gamble, Blanche Wickus, Joyce Herfort, Marguerite Stoeckmann, and Virginia Peck.

Geraldine Madalon, head cheerleader, was the acting president of the Pep Club. The other cheerleaders were Ann Bresnahan, Senior High, Margo Scott and Ethel Olson, Junior High.

The faculty advisor was Miss Forsythe.

Under the new constitution Pep Club should work into a strong organization in future years to carry on the tradition by upholding Baraboo High School sports.

Pep Club was well represented at all of the home basketball games and put on pep meetings in both football and basketball seasons. One pep meeting put on before the Baraboo-Reedsburg home basketball game was particularly amusing, being an original program written by Marjorie Geoghegan. The Baraboo-Reedsburg game had the largest attendance of any home game.

One of the pet peeves of BETH ARVESON is being addressed as "you" or "say". But she likes to walk (useful now with rationing), play tennis and quiz games—"Information Please?" for instance.

Sociology, Economics, Modern History, Civics

This teacher would like to own a malted milk shop and drink up the profits. Some students gave him a new name—"Nitro 'packin' LeRoy" otherwise known as "BUSTER". Well if the shoe fits, put it on, MR. BROWN. Chemistry, Practical Math Cumberland River Falls, University of Wisconsin

ETHEL CRANDALL's feat was directing our school plays this year, and a good job she did. Her laugh is contagious, but we laughed at her, not with her, when she toted a teddy bear for Thalia Initiation.

 Milton College, University of Wisconsin

Assembly on War Stamp Day is the pet peeve of MARJORIE ENRIGHT and we can well understand this when we realize she is in charge of stamp and bond sales as well as bookkeeper for school activities.

Bookkeeping, Geometry Elkhorn
 Whitewater, University of Iowa.

"If I knew what I'd rather do, I wouldn't be doing what I am"—so it is with HARRIET FORSYTHE, girl's phy ed. teacher. First on her list of pet peeves is the person who says "I can't", without trying.

Physical Education Hartland
 LaCrosse State Teachers College

ARTHUR GILBERT—or should I say "Ensign"—hates to correct test papers. If so, why does he give tests? We wouldn't mind. During his spare time he enjoys working with young people. Succeeded by MR. NELSON. Civics
 Milton College, University of Wisconsin

FERN HACKETT always has an encouraging word for our "Knights of the Gridiron", but she presents another goal to reach in the classroom: mastering "MacBeth"—for her teams are Seniors.

"Are we going to do anything important in class today?" is apt to bring an avalanche of fury from our generally good humored RUTH HAMMERSLEY. Three cheers for her work as an Annual advisor.

The Reviewing Stand

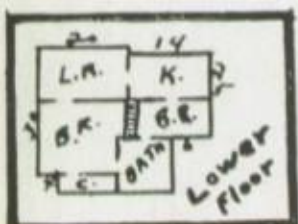

The use of the auditorium piano as a miscellaneous catch-all vexes JANE HASLANGER. It's her desire to write a dictionary translating for future teachers such terms as "Nots much", "fair" etc.

Vocal Music, Orchestra Marinette
University of Wisconsin

That tall, dark, handsome man striding through the halls is COACH PAUL KRUEGER whose pet peeve of losing games was demonstrated by our super football team. Outside of school he likes to hunt.

Physical Education Reedsburg

If you would like to hear how football was played in the good old days, HERB HAWKINS is the man you should see. That little man in his shop of big machines can buzz off more stories than his circle saw.

Manual Arts, Baraboo

From the number of orange slips circulating, no one would know that SEVERN RINKOB'S dislike was detentions. (whose isn't). Summertime you might see him pushing a little white ball around the greens.

Physics, Math, Asst Prin. Baraboo

The pet peeve of JOE MULCAHY is girls in his homeroom who insist on talking. This former teacher is interested in operating a farm, but for the duration he'll be serving in Uncle Sam's forces.

Agriculture Belmont
Platteville Teachers College

"Tempus Fugit" is a saying of AGNES RISETTER for she dislikes seeing individuals waste time. Has she seen our industrious study halls? Or is that why she said it perhaps? Doubtless her training in the classics.

St. Olaf and University of Wisconsin.

"Will you run an errand for me?" is a question that greets most any student as he passes the "inner sanctum's" door. But we are always pleased to do whatever it is for JO HOLLENBECK.

"Why are little girls so squeamish when they see a little worm or frog who wouldn't hurt them anyway?" asks GERALD SCOTT. Although we sympathize with him, we must admit we are typical girls.

Biology Colby

"If you had as many B's on your report cards as you have on your sweater, you'd be a lot better off"—that's the philosophy of LEILA JOHNSON. To get her goat just talk and chew gum simultaneously.

Is any organization without an advisor? GARNER SMITH will take it on and do it well. His "Ned Sparks" appeal attracts many of his students, who do not always catch on to the "sparks" in his quibs.
